Tree Plantation Drive

15th July, 2019

On 15th July 2019 the NSS volunteers organized and successfully completed a tree plantation activity at Sanganer area, Jaipur under the “GO-GREEN DRIVE” initiative. Trees are the foremost source for producing the oxygen in environment, they helps to reduce the level of CO₂. As we all know that the whole world is facing the problem of global warming and to recover from such problem, planting trees has become one of the most important aspects today. Tree planting is grounded in forest science and if performed properly can result in the successful regeneration of a deforested area.

A group of 50 volunteers with faculty member reached the ground of the garden and were handed saplings to be planted. The event in-charge first briefed the students about the importance of tree plantation. Even the help staff demonstrated the whole process and gave the students all the know-how’s on how to plant the trees and water the plants. The helpers told them about the importance of plants, their uses etc. Various types of saplings were planted by students and faculty of the university.

On 7th August, a Swachh Bharat Campaign was organised by IIS University for all the NSS volunteers. The volunteers visited Dwarka Das park for Swachh Bharat campaign. Volunteers were provided with Poly bags along with this they used hand gloves for picking the waste. Hygiene is key for a healthy lifestyle. The activity was done to create awareness and motivate people around us , so that they do take initiative for Swachh Bharat. People passing by the park appreciated the work done by the volunteers. At the end the volunteers were happy enough for the work they did.

Swachhata Campaign at Sanganer Railway station

As we commemorate 150th birth anniversary of Mahatma Gandhi, his great thoughts need to be pulled into action. He is not only the political visionary who led India to freedom but a social reformer who wanted the society to outgrow prejudices, move forward to become self-sufficient and self-reliant. In tune with Gandhian philosophy the NSS volunteers participated in a cleanliness drive under Swachhata pakhwada on 8th August 2019 and the venue was Sanganer Railway station. NSS volunteers divided themselves into groups of four each. They all wore gloves and cleaned the area near station entrance .The volunteers managed to clean the entrance area of railway station . There was an excellent display of teamwork and cooperation. This for sure set an example for the general public to learn that the onus to maintain a clean environment is on us as citizens.

Swachta Rally

On Monday 14th August 2019, NSS volunteers organized Swachhta Rally in Hajiawala Community. NSS volunteers with students of Hajiawala Government School did the rally in nearby community by showcasing posters and saying slogans in chorus. Creative and informing posters were made by the NSS volunteers. The rally was conducted in two groups so that the whole area could be covered.

The aim behind the rally was to aware and educate people of the nearby community about cleanliness and healthy surroundings. Posters carried the messages like 'KACHRA KUDADAN MA HI DALE', 'SWACH BHARAT- SWASTH BHARAT' and many more which were appealing regarding the cause. Such rallies help every individual to contribute in making India clean and green.

After the rally school students with the help of NSS volunteers pasted posters on the walls of the school. The rally was successfully done in the community.

A total of 324 NSS volunteers participated in different activities in the Swacchata Pakhwada.

Swachta Campaign at IIS University Campus

5th August, 2019

A campus cleaning programme was organized by 100 NSS volunteers in the university campus with active participation of NSS volunteers dated 5th AUGUST 2019 Monday. The cleanliness tasks were divided amongst the sub groups. Volunteers were divided into groups and were allotted with classrooms, laboratories, library etc. where the NSS volunteers interacted with the students briefing them about the importance of cleanliness in classrooms. Volunteers picked wrappers and foils and bits of paper lying in classrooms and threw it in dustbin and helped arranging chairs. The main purpose of this program was to create awareness among the students regarding cleanliness and its benefits and not to use plastic bags or any form of plastic .To save electricity and to take a step forward in this campaign by cleaning their classrooms. Efforts were done by the volunteers to create awareness not just among the students but also the staff members. Volunteers even interacted with teachers and briefed them about the consequences of littering and the benefits of keeping our campus clean. Volunteers even briefed about the arrival of diseases due to unhealthy environment and also stressed on Hygienic environment as it aids in better learning. "Cleanliness is next to godliness"- with this mindset volunteers took the initiative to clean the university labs. So the volunteers visited geography lab, food science lab, textiles lab, chemistry lab, physics lab ,and psychology lab .Activities ranged from cleaning the slabs and boards of the different labs which were covered in dust, volunteers even urged the students as well as faculty members to reduce their usage of electrical appliances ,students were even briefed about the proper disposal of test tubes and even the importance of using clean and sterilized instruments to prevent the dangerous spread of germs. Our teacher coordinator motivated students towards 'Clean India' by his inspirational talk. The volunteers started cleaning the entire campus and collected all the litter for disposal. Some of the students were found using plastic bottles and straws so volunteers urged them and made them aware about the consequences of using plastic and also suggested them the alternatives of plastic .while investigating the campus the students found a pile of plastic glasses, straws and bottles around the canteen area so they requested the Janitors to clean it. The enthusiastic NSS volunteers devoted their time and energy to spread the message of cleanliness across the campus at multiple canteens and rest rooms. They visited the 'Planet J' canteen and picked up littered trash and used paper plates. They also stopped by the 'Amul' canteen and spread awareness about the importance of cleanliness and being plastic free. The volunteers even closely inspected the cleanliness of the rest rooms and volunteered to close leaking taps and even picked up some scattered trash .The project does not end here volunteers took an initiative to continue this project even outside the campus and be a helping hand towards the conservation of environment .The volunteers were instructed to clean their hands with soap at the end.

Orientation to National Digital Library by Dr.Sonal Jain

Date-5th August

India is one of those countries that is grappling with digital divide which in the present times can pull the country down in terms of development. We all are a part of 'knowledge economy' where information is the benchmark of progress and power. We are past the days when knowledge had physical boundaries or a typical formal education was determining the intellect. After IT revolution India did have smart phone revolution too, modern technology is successfully substituting primitive methodology of work and hence under the Ministry of Human Resource Development, India started a project called National Digital library of India which is a digital repository containing textbooks, articles, videos, audio books, lectures, simulations, fiction and all other kinds of learning media. As IIS (deemed to be)University is promoting learning on digital lines, 275 NSS volunteers were oriented for the same by Dr. Sonal Jain delivered lecture on how the portal is to be used. She acquainted the students with the registration process and gave them necessary information regarding access and restrictions.

She told the students about how they can access the Library and other digital libraries linked with it. From accessing the library through metacampus account to borrowing book digitally from another library, Dr Sonal Jain ensured that the session proves to be useful and informative.

Further, Dr Sonal Jain also made the students aware about the best library user award, its criteria and the perks the award offers. She ended the session by telling the do's and don'ts for the college library. The session came out to be very informative and useful. The volunteers were happy and contented to know such important details. The session ended at 10:30 am.

Painting Competition on Gandhiji

On 26th August 89 volunteers of NSS organized Painting competition of Gandhiji in the Badmohanpura and Dadabari govt. School. All the children of the school have to draw the drawing of Gandhiji we made drawing of the same on the blackboard and children also made it efficiently if anybody has a problem we helped them and make them draw, we also made them draw Swachhta related drawings like Dustbin ,people cleaning with broom ,how to clean our surroundings .We have collected the sheets and photographs of it. Children enjoyed it very much.

Quiz Competition

What a wonderful way to start the week!

The NSS volunteers were privileged that they got a chance to bring smiles on the faces of little children. Monday 26, August 2019, 85 NSS volunteers visited Kalyanpura government school with an aim to educate children about the father of the nation Mahatma Gandhi. Volunteers conducted a quiz session on Bapu's life and teachings. Each group had a total of 20 questions made & displayed either on a chart or on sheet. Students were asked to answer different questions. To our surprise, the observation was that the students of the school up to class fifth were not even aware of Mahatma Gandhi. We tried to impart the knowledge to them about who Mahatma Gandhi and his teachings.

Problem Identification

Members of Jal Shakti team visited the Hasampura village on 2nd Sept 2019 to have an idea about the existing water conservation activities undertaken by the villagers, water related problem which they are facing and to formulate strategies to deal with those problems. One day before the visit Sarpanch was informed and he was requested to inform the villagers about the Jal Shakti team visit. Villagers were asked to gather at a common place and the activity started with a discussion on present status of water in the village. During the discussion the problems identified related to water are: There is an acute problem of water in the village and there is no alternate resource except Nevtu bandh. The villagers did not just face problems with respect to irrigation for agriculture but also experienced difficulties in arranging water for day to day activities. The water level in the village had depleted alarmingly over the years.

Villagers were found to be aware about the water scarcity in their village and they are facing it too but surprisingly not doing anything for water conservation. Male complained that women at home waste water a lot but women did not agreed to their statement. Although they are informed about water scarcity in Rajasthan through different media sources but not taking any step to resolve this problem due to lack of self-realization. Only two-three households were found to have installed the system of water harvesting. No further step was taken to renovate the traditional water bodies like wells, ponds etc.

Constitution of “Gram Jal Shakti Team” in Hasampura

A Gram Jal Shakti team of total seven members were constituted in Hasampura village on 2nd Sept 2019. Two women and three women from the village and two faculty members of IIS (deemed to be university, Jaipur), Dr. Alka Kataria and Ms. Archana Kumari were included in the team. Approval of the village Sarpanch was taken for the Gram Jal Shakti Team.

Expert Talk on Water Conservation

On 4th Sept 2019 an expert talk was organized in Hasampura village. The expert was Dr. Alka Kataria, Assistant professor in the Department of Environment Science. She began her talk with importance of water and scarcity of it especially in Rajasthan. She said that water conservation should begin from home itself and teaching the future generation about the value of every drop of water should be practiced in each household. She suggested few measures for saving water and appealed especially to women present there to practice those strategies at their home. She talked about the depletion of groundwater level in the village and suggested the villagers to save rain water through the technique of rainwater harvesting. She also suggested few techniques to farmers for using and storing rainwater efficiently for irrigation in their farms. Tree plantation on a huge scale was also suggested by the expert.

Poster making on Efficiency in utilization of water

A poster making competition was organized in government school of Hasampura on 6th Sept 2019. The purpose to organize this competition was to make children aware about the ways they can adopt in their day-to-day life for saving water by using it efficiently. Before making the poster children were explained by the students of IIS (deemed to be University), Jaipur about how and when they generally waste water in their daily activities and how they can save water. It was very surprising to see that many students showed the ways of water being wasted in their surroundings through pictures or writing on paper.

On 9th Sept 2019 poster making competition on the same theme was organized in the IIS (deemed to be University), Jaipur campus. 46 students participated in this activity and prepared meaningful posters and pasted in every classroom.

Oath taking on water conservation

Students, teachers as well as non-teaching staff members of government school of Hasampura took a pledge to conserve water. The aim of this activity was to educate children on the importance of water and the need to plant saplings. Emphasizing on the significance of water conservation, the faculty of IIS (deemed to be University), Jaipur and Principal of the school asserted that it was the need of the hour. The teachers advised the students to stop wasting water and motivate their family members, friends and other acquaintances to save it.

Slogan writing on “Ban use of Plastic”

The activity of Slogan writing on ban on single use plastic was organized in government school of Hasampura on 11th Sept 2019. To make the campus free from plastic it is very important to make the students aware about the harm to the environment caused by using plastic and encourage them to take initiatives in making their campus plastic free. Slogans on ban of single use plastic were written and displayed in each and every classroom by the students.

On 12th Sept 2019 slogan writing competition on the same theme was organized in the IIS (deemed to be University), Jaipur campus.

Distribution of bags for collection of plastics from households

During the visit it was found that plastic has created havoc in Hasampura as there is no facility of common dumping area. The whole village is littered with plastics. Faculties and students of IIS (deemed to be University), Jaipur tried to convince villagers for not throwing garbage in open areas but in the absence of garbage dumping area it cannot be possible. So as alternative villagers were given big plastic bags and were asked to dump their plastic waste in that bag so that the van from the university will come and collect the garbage once in a fortnight.

Documentary screening on “Ban use of Plastic”

On 14th sept 2019, documentary screening was done at Government School Hasanpura to promote ban on use of plastic.

Skit on Ban of single use plastic

Cattles roam the streets littered with garbage looking for food. As cows pick through piles of garbage, hunting for leftovers, they also consume plastic. Unsurprisingly, the biggest plastic pollutant digested by cows is plastic bags. The bits of plastic consumed build up in their internal organs, which make it difficult for cows to eat. As a result, milk production drops as does milk quality. Over time, the plastic consumption “sentences cattle to a slow and cruel death.

To sensitize the students towards this issue a skit was prepared and performed by students of government school under the guidance of students of IIS (deemed to be University), Jaipur in the school campus on 14th September 2019.

Documentary Screening on Ban of Single use of Plastic

DATE: 9th Sep, 2019

Plastic bags are everywhere in our environment. In our modern lives, they have become a part of us. However, the convenience of these plastic bags come at a very high cost to the environment and negatively affects human health. To raise awareness on the same, a documentary screening was organised for the students of D6-D10 of NSS on the topic of "Ban on the use of single use plastic". Three documentaries were screened for the students namely 'A plastic wave', 'India could ban 6 single-use plastic products from Oct 2' and 'What really happens to the plastic you throw away'. It was an eye opener for the students as most of them were not aware about the complexity of the situation.

Documentary screening on Mahatma: A great soul of 20th Century

September 16, 2019

364 volunteers of group A, B, C, D, E (6-10) attended the screening of the documentary on Mahatma – a great soul of 20th century for their NSS activity. The activity was held at the AV hall at 9:30 am. A short documentary was being played in which all the struggles faced and witnessed by our freedom fighter Mahatma Gandhi – ‘The Father of the Nation’ were shown.

All the movements which took place for the independence of our country and the particular cause behind all these movements were also informatively displayed. All the rights, policies which were removed and implemented by the Britishers were also discussed.

All the students found the documentary very informative and interesting. They all came to visualise the lives of their freedom fighters more closely and got to know more about the history and importance of which played the vital role in the independence of our country.

Literacy Project in Government Schools

9th September,2019

The NSS volunteers went to 5 different government schools for the literacy project. There were 480 volunteers who took up the task to impart knowledge among the students by using innovative ideas related to education. The students made posters with the volunteers. They expressed their concern about the importance of cleanliness through art. This activity aimed at inculcating knowledge among the students so that they can become channels of spreading civic sense in general. It was a true learning experience for the volunteers as well as the students.

Short film screening on Gandhi

September 16,2019

Under Literacy project, 236 NSS volunteers went to various Government Schools for their NSS activity. Under the guidance of Ms. VyomaAgarwal, the students of the school were divided in groups.Each group was allotted one class and the volunteer taught them different topics like cleanliness of surroundings, traffic rules and animal cruelty, hygiene and healthy living, healthy eating and proper nutrition and screened a documentary on Mahatma Gandhi.

The main motives of the activity were to aware students about the little things which we tend to ignore and are important for the development of a little kid to a responsible citizen. The students were very happy to have an interactive session filled with knowledge, joy and fun. For NSS volunteers the feeling of teaching students was rewarding.

Activity - Zumba dance

3rd February,2020

The rising levels of pollution and the falling quality of air resulting in the overall climate change is the consequence of human ignorance and reckless exploitation of nature. Climate change is a burning environmental issue and every citizen has the responsibility to take steps in order to act for the nature. Keeping this in mind students of group A participated in the zumba dance organised to express solidarity with the environment. Mr. Nikhil from Paudha Climate Network was the resource person. The message to address the climatic change was conveyed by the students through zumba. This energetic activity was meant to raise awareness and sensitivity towards the climate change. 459 students became a part of the activity.

Poster making on water conservation

February 3, 2020

The NSS wing conducted an activity of poster making on the topic water conservation. In this activity the volunteers were told to make posters on the spot on water conservation. There were teachers to assist the students and group leaders being the helping hand. Water conservation being dedicated to the urgent problem of the contemporary world, through the posters the NSS volunteer showcased how important it is to conserve water and also showed some of the possible ways of water protection. The volunteers in this way also became a part of a practice. This activity was really beneficial. The students gave their best and posters were pasted in the governmentschools. 168 students participated in the event.

Industrial Visit

Date- 24th January, 2020

Place- Dev Milk Foods Pvt. Ltd. Mahindra World City, Village Kalwar, Jaipur-302037

Educational tours are essential for overall development of students. They provide valuable educational opportunities away from the classroom without using textbooks and other tools used in usual settings. Students on educational trips can often learn while having fun in a more informal environment.

An industrial visit was organized on 24th January, 2020 for 1st year Yuva members of the University. The aim of the visit was to provide practical exposure to the students where they could experience the operations of making various dairy and ice-cream products.

A batch of 50 students and two faculty coordinators (Dr. Anju Singh and Dr. Megha Arya) left the IISU campus at 10:05a.m and reached the arena of FruBon at 11:00 a.m. The management received the students and accompanying teachers with a warm welcome and guided them through the site. To begin with, the HR Manager and his team gave the students an introduction of company's history, profile and its present functioning in Dairy, Ice cream and Bakery products like milk, cheese, butter, Yoghurt, Buttermilk, Ice-Cream, Paneer, Cookies, and others. Some of the team members even shared their experiences with the company and asked the students their views about the FruBon products. They also ensured the students that in near future their products will match any good product in the market.

Next, the students were divided into two groups- one group to visit the ice cream production unit and the second group to visit the bakery section. Then, hygiene and safety precautions were taken and everyone was made to wear head-cap before entering the factory. Also, a set of strict safety rules were informed to the students.

In the white products division, the students were accompanied by Mr. Mohammed Shabid (Plant Manager-dairy section). The demonstration was initiated by informing about various sophisticated and advanced technology and machinery used for manufacturing in the factory. Next, the students were made aware of the process involved in procurement and pasteurizing of milk and were given demonstration of the making and packaging of various products. Then the students were also taken to the cold room with a temperature of 5°C, where various dairy products are stored.

In the ice cream section, the students were escorted by Mr. Rahul (Deputy Manager- Ice cream). Firstly, the students visited the laboratory where all kinds of physical, biological and chemical testing are done. Next, it was followed by a visit to the raw materials storage segment. The aroma of the ice -creams filled their hearts with joy. Then the students were made aware about different stages of milk processing and the process involved in making ice- cream and they enjoyed the fascinating site in making. Then the students visited the auto candy machine room where 6000 ice creams are produced in an hour. The students were fascinated even more when they were taken to the Blast Room with the temperature of -35°C . The students were flabbergasted by the bursting of cold air on their faces. The young Icgians were overwhelmed with joy and enthusiasm after they were offered complementary ice creams. This enthusiastic educational tour came to an end with a group photograph of the Yuva team and FruBon employees.

A Session on Stress Management

Date - 27th January, 2020

Place- IIS (deemed to be) University, Jaipur

A session on “Stress Management” was organized on 27th January 2020 for Yuva members of the University. 100 Yuva members participated in the session with great interest. The session aimed to guide the students on how to maintain a healthy lifestyle and to prepare to cope with the stress of everyday living. The session was addressed by Ms. Naintara S Agarwal. She is a psychologist and loves to work with special needs of children. She has worked with AIIMS & Safdarjung hospital, New Delhi as a Child Psychologist where she treated children suffering from cancer and their caregivers. She helps and motivates them to develop a positive attitude towards life. Mr. Swapnil Agarwal, a Yi member and Ms Bhawna, Yi Co-Chair, Jaipur Chapter were also present on the occasion.

To begin the session, Ms Bhawna addressed the students and asked about their recent Industry visit organized by Yi, Jaipur Chapter. She also highlighted the benefits of Yuva membership to students. She then handed over the session to Ms Naintara. While addressing the students Ms. Naintara said that stress and anxiety is a part of human nature, but it is important to know how to overcome it. “Youngsters most of the time find it difficult to face the changes and to cope up with such variations. Hence, this leads to stress, anxiety and tension.”

During the session she discussed various causes of stress, types of stress faced by people, myths about stress and casted light on various facts related to stress. She suggested few tips on the art of handling stress and tension. She also discussed some of the healthy ways of coping stress including Time management strategy, meditation, yoga, well-balanced meals, 7 hours of sleep, a minimum of 20 minutes of aerobic exercise every day and some other ways were also discussed. At the end of the session students asked their various queries on Stress Management which were jointly answered by Mr. Swapnil Agarwal and Ms Naintara.

Industrial Visit

Date- 25th February, 2020

Place- Clay Craft, F-766 A, Road No. 1-D, V.K.I. Area, Jaipur.

An industrial visit to Clay Craft (a premium crockery manufacturer) VKI, was organized on 25th February, 2020 for Yuva members of the University. A batch of 40 students and two faculty coordinators (Dr. Mahima Rai and Dr. Nivedita Sharma) left the IISU campus around 9:50 am and reached the Claycraft campus in one hour approximately. All were warmly welcomed by Mr. R B Sharma, Factory manager of the company and his team. Then the production manager took the students on a round of the factory.

First stop was the production unit, where the students were made familiar with the raw material used for making fine tableware crockery in the industry. Then the group was guided to the molding area where the crockery was being shaped. Next visit was to the assembling zone, where crockery was being assembled. While visiting all the units, the tour guide was efficiently explaining the whole process.

During the visit some other small units where cleaning and finishing work was done could also be seen. The last stop was to the labeling and packaging unit, where every batch was labeled and packed in boxes. It was amazing for the students to see and understand the manufacturing process of Clay Craft crockery.

Finally, to quench the thirst of our curious minds, the group assembled at the Reception area where not only the answers to the questions were given but the refreshments were also served. This learning visit came to an end with a group photograph of the Clay Craft team and the YUVA members. With a wholesome of learning, memories and experience the Yuva members reached the University around 12.30 pm.

IISU Theatrical Society

Performance of SASHAKT at The IIS University lawns

20th July, 2019

On 20th July, 2019, the members of IISU Theatrical Society performed Sashakt, the street play. It was the very first event of the session 2019-20 by The Theatrical society. The play was performed in the lawns of the University Campus at 12pm sharp by 16 student members of the society, where a number of freshers showed keen interest to participate as audience.

The play proved as a motivation for self-empowerment and also, to inspire them to stay safe and alert by letting them know about many fundamental rights and laws. The Teachers of the department were present to make sure the performers stay motivated. The play was full of energy and enthusiasm of the students and lit the faces of the large audience with laughter along with empowerment. The girls called it "self-empowerment" rather than women empowerment. The amazing performance was ended with the loud applause and appreciation by the audience of the university.

Performance of Skit: Tale of 1947

19th August 2019

The IISU Theatrical society's students Priyal Mathur and Nitya Saxena performed a play "Tale of 1947" on 19th August 2019 at 9:30 AM in Srijan Hall for all the students of Cultural Activity. Tale of 1947 is a story of two friends Muhammed and Jugal who face dilemmatic situation during partition. The story is penned by leading Urdu-short story writer Sadat Hasan Manto after partition of India. The play was graced by enthusiastic participation of students and various faculty members who were all geared up to attend the same.

Annual Play Workshop Inaugural 22nd August 2019

Annual play workshop 2019 inaugural was held on 22nd August in Aditya hall. A total of 59 Students enrolled for the workshop this year. The Workshop is a one month intensive training program organised by IISU Theatrical Society. It is the most awaited time during which students not only get to explore themselves and discover their hidden ability to act but also by shedding inhibitions associated with performing in front of audience.

This time also Annual Play Workshop saw an enthusiastic participation of the students who were all geared up to attend the inaugural programme. The programme commenced with welcoming our Director Sir Shiva Prasad Tumu and introducing him to the participants. Sir Shiva Tumu is yet another highly educated and experienced personality in theatre who has completed his M.A in theatre arts from university of Hyderabad and is alumni of national school of drama since 2010. He has been a faculty of National School of Drama extension workshop for various years and currently he is an assistant professor of department of dramatics at University of Rajasthan. The inaugural programme was further headed with explanation of how the execution and whole process of making a play will be carried out by Sir Shiva Tumu.

The programme concluded with introduction of students and extension of floral greeting to Sir by Dr. Aditi R. Khandelwal (Convenor).

Guest Lecture on 'The Art of MIME' by Padmashri Niranjan Goswami

9th September, 2019

"We make the visible invisible and the invisible visible."

This is how Padmashri Niranjan Goswami describes his art form: mime.

On the 9th of September, 2019, Shri Niranjan Goswami visited the IIS University as a guest lecturer and guided the students of the Theatrical Society about the foundation of mime in India and its origin. Shri Niranjan Goswami was born in 1949, Dhaka, Bangladesh. He trained in mime with Jogesh Dutta from 1966 to 1969 at the latter's institution Padaboli, and trained himself in theatre working with Sombhu Mitra at Bohurupee between 1970 and 1975. He established the Indian Mime Theatre in 1976. Shri Goswami has advanced the practice of mime as an independent genre in Indian theatre with his performances over the past two decades. Among his significant productions are Sonarganyer Meye (1983), Dena Paona (1989), Srikanta (1990), Beej (1995), and Nagamandala (1997). Most of these are based on well-known literary works. To build up an audience for mime, Shri Goswami has been organizing festivals of mime theatre since the mid-1980s. He has also taught mime at several institutions, including the National School of Drama in Delhi, the Trissur School of Drama, and the Film and Television Institute of India, Pune. He has given lecture- demonstrations at the University of California at Los Angeles, U.S.A., and the Jawaharlal Nehru University in Delhi. Shri Goswami has been working with deaf children for several years, some of whom have won young Talent Scholarships of the Government of India. He has performed in the World Youth Festival (1989) in Pyongyang, North Korea, and the Shanghai International Art Festival (2002) in China, and has besides toured Europe, the former Soviet Union, and the United States as a cultural delegate. Among other honours, he has received the All India Critics Association Award in 1998. He was awarded a Senior Research Fellowship by the Department of Culture, Government of India, in 2001. Shri Niranjan Goswami received the Sangeet Natak Akademi Award for his excellence as an actor in mime.

As part of the lecture, Sir illustrated the intricacies of mime. He taught the students the relevance of painting the face in mime, how the whole body acts instead of words, the extraction of mime from Natyashastra as 'Mukhabhinaya' and many such things. Currently, Sir has founded the National Mime Institute in Kolkata that gives a post graduate course in theatre. 250 students attended the lecture.

For the students, it was an enlightening experience to meet somebody with such a powerful aura. Sir left them with an insight to the world of mime. He taught the students how one must incarnate oneself into the object so as to understand the art. It was an enriching experience to say the least.

Guest Lecture on Chhau Dance by Mr. Jagannath Seth

16th September, 2019

Knowledge is best gained if someone experienced shares it. On 16th September, 2019 Mr. Jagannath Seth, a specialist in Chhau dance came to the IIS (deemed to be University) for a guest lecture, organised by IISU Theatrical Society. 250 students gathered for the session.

Jagannath Seth, an alumnus of National School of Drama is an actor, dancer and a Chhau artist. He has done total of 42 plays and has won many state and national level drama competitions. It was mind blowing to watch this personality perform.

The program began with his warm welcome. Jagannath sir talked about the origin of chhau and its types. He talked about 3 kinds of chhau, belonging to Bengal, Jharkhand and Odisha respectively. He efficiently taught us about various musical instruments which are used in chhau including dhol, nagada. Not just this, he explained the relevance and importance of the use of mask in chhau dance. Moreover, he talked about different kinds of costumes used in depicting different characters.

The program was uplifted when he himself performed and showcased the magic of chhau. It was mesmerising to watch him perform. The kind of balance and patience he had was remarkable. He briefly explained the mythological connection chhau dance holds as an art form. His body was full of grace, beauty and charm. He is definitely an epitome of talent and skills.

The event ended with an interactive session where students cleared their doubts about chhau. Lastly, he was thanked and praised with a round of applause. This event was entirely full of knowledge, adventure and experience.

Annual Play 2019 titled “Ek Bhoot Ki Atmakatha”

23rd September, 2019

50 students of the IISU Theatrical Society staged their Annual Play 2019 titled “Ek Bhoot Ki Atmakatha” on 23rd September, 2019. The play was a culmination of a 30 day workshop that taught the participants various styles of theatre, disciplines and etiquettes of working on stage.

The Chief Guest of the play was, the renowned theatre and film artist, Ms. Ratna Pathak Shah. She not only acknowledged the teams’ efforts into creating the play but also provided useful insights about what the focus points while performing should be. The entirety of the play was a result of a lot of time put in and had its own moments. After all, Rome wasn’t built in day.

Process and milestones of the workshop:

The journey of 30 days was a splendid one. Each step, leading the students to become better actors and moreover, better people with strong personas.

The workshop began with the basic step of familiarization. Introducing themselves, the students’ ideas and reasons to join theatre acted as a small window to knowing the team. They got to know the director, Mr. Siva Prasad Tumu and understood his expectations from the play, the team and his work ethics.

The very next step and one of the most important one was that of interpretation. It involved looking at the play beyond literal levels of understanding. Participants pondered upon the message these stories are trying to convey and how they link them to the real world. Through this, they got an outlook upon how the participants were not there as blank slates but came with their own set of thoughts which needed to be spoken out.

Portrayal through improvisations was a very intriguing step of the process. It not only showed how creative the participants were but also brought out their opinions in a structured manner. Each group gave different forms of the same story in different styles like mime, musical or dance drama or through plain narratives but within intricate formats.

Through these improvisations, the director moved on to character blocking. This was done through linking the participants’ personalities with the characters’ needs. Each person brought their own eccentrics and ideography as a contribution to the characters’ development.

Once the blocking was complete, the plot as a whole was formed. The loop holes were understood and covered and each story was worked upon numerous times with several different styles. In this, our acting trainers, Mr. Jagannath Seth and Mr. Mahesh Godeshwar, played a significant role.

The participants were introduced to Chaau dance and Pina Bausch's style of theatrics. Mr. Seth made them understand the importance of inculcating the habit of feeling the rhythm of the music and the essence of the story and bringing it out in our movements. Mr. Godeshwar essentially worked on building an aura and leaving your presence on stage long after you've exited. Speech should not be limited only to words and dialogues but should create a link between the actor and the audience was his training motto.

The first run through was an impactful moment and nothing less than a milestone in this workshop. The students understood what the play was trying to tell us, how strong its message is and how much more we need to contribute to it. It was one of the most emotionally moving aspect of this workshop.

Further to this came the stages of property development, set development, lighting and music settings and most importantly the art of projection techniques. The participants actively worked through the nitty-gritties of the play. Among other things was understanding how to use the stage space and exploring all possibilities of the set that was so vigorously made.

One thing that this workshop taught everybody all is that 'Theatre' is not just being on stage and delivering dialogues. It's about understanding others and more importantly, ourselves. From getting rid of inhibitions, stage fears and mental blocks to knowing that no matter how quirky you might be, theatre accepts you for who you are.

Participation in Intercollegiate Ad Mad Competition at JNU

27th September, 2019

On the 27th of September, 2019, five students of the IISU Theatrical Society took part in the JNU ad mania competition. The competition was a part of JNU's fest Technorazz. The theme was to make an ad on tea. The participants from IIS Theatrical society were Priyal Mathur, Chandrika Jajoo, Suhani Jain, Garima Israni and Yashika Vijay.

The brand that was promoted was Jaago Mohan Chai and the tagline the students picked was "Ye pee jaye to din ban Jaye!".

The event was an amazing experience for the students and did a lot to improve the participants' spontaneity. It is a big task to come up with something at the moment which is not only worth performing, but should also stick with the audience.

The students had a blast at the event and learned a lot about on stage ethics and team work.

All in all, the competition brought out the best in the students and added another feather to their cap!

Participation in Road Safety Week

3-4th October, 2019

On the occasion of Gandhi Jayanti, Transport Department, Govt. of Rajasthan observed a road safety week starting from 3rd October 2019. Various awareness activities were planned by stakeholder departments with support of education institutions and NGOs. One such activity "On Road Campaign" for Helmet and seat belt awareness was planned on 4th October 2019 at signal S L Cut, JLN Marg at 9.00 am onwards in which students of NSS and IISU Theatrical society took part.

In the beginning a brief orientation was given to the students by Muskan Foundation and Traffic police at the venue and later students along with traffic police interacted with road users at the signal for generating awareness for the issue of importance of wearing helmet and wearing it correct.

Total of 15 volunteers went for conducting this campaign along with Traffic Police and Muskaan NGO team. The students went in the college uniform and placards were provided to them with different slogans and messages. Total duration of the campaign was 2 hours.

It was a new but good experience to communicate with strangers on road, telling them to be more aware of the traffic safety. People reacted in a very positive and welcoming manner which encouraged the students to be even more participative in the campaign. We were appreciated by the people on road for the kind of efforts we showed, as young generation.

Street Play “HAHAHA No” at Awaaz Studio

12th October, 2019

Mental Health is an essential part of our lives. It is of utmost importance that we understand the dynamics of mental health. A street play: “Hahaha No” was presented on 12th October, 2019 in the evening at Birla Auditorium organised by Awaaz Studio.

The street play focussed on the critical importance of positive mental health, especially optimism. It portrayed how humans have been so busy in mocking at each other, how we have been busy in our daily work and life that we have forgotten the simplicity and necessity to smile. Smile is so crucial to human beings but somehow we have ignored the aspect of happiness and smile. The street play also emphasizes on certain facts related to happiness and smile. It over all gives a message of how we all can be happy and mentally healthy only if we all try to be positive.

The street play started with a call song, which was attractive and catchy. It maintained the concentration of audience towards itself. The street play ended with a song asking out people to smile and be happy. There were a total of 150-200 no of people who witnessed this event.

The participants looked extremely beautiful in red kurties and ropes. They looked amazing with the coordinated make up and accessories. It was wonderful to watch them perform. The street play was more powerful because of the live music used on Nagada. Total of 20 participants performed.

The event ended with a great applause of audience and some photographs. It was an unforgettable event which would remain intact in the hearts of the people.

Participation in Intercollegiate Mono Act Competition

15-16th October 2019

An astonishing conference session on rethinking theatre, dramatic and unsustainable studies (RTDS2019) was organised by Amity University from 15-16th October 2019. On sixteenth October 2019 it was attended by Nitya Saxena and Chandrika Jajoo of IIS (Deemed to be University). They performed in the Monologue Competition. Nitya Saxena secured third position with her amazing performance.

The event started at 4:00 o'clock. Nitya's story was about a child getting kidnapped and then losing his whole childhood to begging and thugs. The Monologue was called "The Lost Childhood". Chandrika Jajoo performed "My present is crying for my past". A beautiful story was moulded into a presentation by her. It was a story about how we are busy within our phones and its effect on our lives. The time limit was from 5 to 7 minutes for all the contestants.

Last but not the least, the event would not have been possible without the efforts and encouragement of the teachers and volunteers of IIS University and Amity University both. Special thanks to all the teachers, volunteers and the theatrical society for coming up with such unforgettable event.

Hosted Intercollegiate Nukkad Natak Competition Xuberance 2019 18th October 2019

Teamwork results in intense satisfaction. This could be seen on 18th October 2019 when an Inter Collegiate Street Play Competition 'HallaBol' was organised by the IISU Theatrical Society of IIS (deemed to be) University under the Inter College fest Xuberance 2019. The event was organized in the lawns. The timing of the event were from 11:30 to 3:30.

In this exciting and thrilling event ,total of 8 colleges /Universities participated including JECRC University , JECRC foundation, Manipal University, Subodh College, B. Lal College , Mahaveer College, Kanoria College and our own IIS University. It was wonderful to host and see these teams full of zeal and energy.

The venue was open and hence a mass audience could be seen, students were excited to witness some real energies and dramas. There were food stalls, properly decorated surroundings, an amazing fest feel around the campus. The event started with the welcome of the judges, who were Bhagwant Kaur Ma'am and Mehmood Ali Sir, who are both experienced and active theatre artists.

Moving on to the actual fun, all the teams were provided tag numbers to perform in respective orders. All the participants were provided with refreshments and proper necessities. All the teams were properly dressed and looked full of enthusiasm and motivation. All the teams encouraged the other team while performing, this showed how rationally the teams were enjoying the concepts and performances. They were all supportive, hence, it was not 8 teams rather it looked like just one team.

Street play is a bold way of expressing our thoughts and feelings through our actions. All the teams understood this aspect, they definitely touched the social aspects of our society which needs to be thought about. Many sensitive topics were touched. For instance, JECRC team took upon a topic of how women's menstruation is a gossip point, how everyone around discriminates and devalue a woman while they go through this pain. Another team, Manipal University, talked about mental illness and its effect on human survival. They showed how our lives have become full of suicides and ultimate mental illness. The IIS University showcased a thought of how we all points out problems on our own country, where we actually forget to look at the good things we have. We search around in other world to find the pleasure but it is actually near us, around us. Many more topics were there such as alcohol abuse, Male's exploitation, environmental pollution etc.

All these topics were beautifully and boldly presented by all the teams. It could actually go through the hearts of the audience as well as judges.

In the end, Judges talked about their experience and gave a feedback of the event. They overall enjoyed the energy and thought processes of the new generation.

While the results were being compiled, teams interacted with one another. They talked about their experience at the event. Some students from the teams presented Monologues to mingle more. All the teams were turned from teams to a mass of one whole group.

In the end, the results were, third position was bagged by JECRC Foundation and Manipal University, whereas 2nd position was taken by Kanoria Girls College. Last but not the least, 1st position was bestowed upon by IIS University itself. The teams were happy and satisfied with the results. Trophies were given to the winning teams, whereas certificates were provided to all the participants. Twenty volunteers from the theatrical society helped making the event a grand success.

The event ended with group photographs of all the teams with the honourable judges, Vice Chancellor Dr. Ashok Gupta and Registrar Dr. Raakhi Gupta . It was eye catching to see all the teams encouraging each other. The event was a success and memorable day for all.

A team of four students Chandrika Jajoo, Chandrika Parmar, Varsha Ganot and Yashika Vijay participated in the same. They were given topic stall and portrayed it exceptionally in a humoristic way with the help of bollywood songs, jingles and taglines. The environment was really competitive and students witnessed an enthusiastic participation.

The audience boosted up the energy of the participants and applauded the performances.

The event was a great learning experience.

Performance of Skit 'Tale of 1947'

18th Dec, 2019

A skit was performed on 18th Dec, 2019 for the students of COSD Theatre Studies by two members of the IISU theatrical society. Religious violence in India includes acts of violence by followers of one religious group against followers and institutions of another religious group, often in the form of riots. Religious violence in India has generally involved Hindus and Muslims.

The partition displaced 10-12 million people along religious lines, creating overwhelming refugee crises in the newly constituted dominions; there was large-scale violence, with estimates of loss of life. The violent nature of the partition created an atmosphere of hostility and suspicion between India and Pakistan that plagues their relationship to the present.

The play showcased this bitterness which grew among every single person including Muhammad and Jugal, two close friends who couldn't even imagine a day without each other but later fell prey to the partition of partition which ended with Jugal killing Muhammad because of their religious fights, after partition was announced, the subcontinent descended quickly into riots and bloodshed resulting not only open killing of Hindus and Muslims, but also murder of their unbreakable yet breakable relationships.

Participation in Monologue Competition - Monologue Mania

23rd December, 2019

Emotions are better expressed than spoken. It can be seen by few monologues presented on 23rd of December, 2019 in University Campus.

Three COSD theatre students came forward with their entirely different but enlightening performances. The first performance named " Dosti" was about a girl who lost his best friend , who was not just a friend , but family. The monologue portrayed the hidden emotion of loneliness and emptiness that exists within the girl. It talked about the small but crucial things we share in friendship.

The next performance named " koi toh ho" was based on a girl who is all alone in spite of so many people around. Who smiles but does not feel the gay from inside. She is a book reader, who is tired of being alone. The character blames the society for being selfish and not real.

The third monologue, famously known was “gagan da mama bajyo”. The character showcased intense sadness and about what had happened in jalianwalabagh through the eyes of a sister who lost her brother there. The performance was filled with feelings and intensity.

All the acts took the hearts of audiences. It was wonderful to watch them perform.

Organization of “Prop Tempre” Intra College Competition

9th January 2020

An astonishing competition was organised by 30 students of the theatrical Society of IIS University on 9 January 2020. That is, a prop tempore competition at COSMOS-ANNUAL FEST 2019-20 at 11:00 AM in the Ojas hall. The event aimed about a fun way to bring out the best in the participants while using a prop.

The competition started with an introduction to prop tempore and then to the judges who were Miss. Manali Sharma and Mr Sumit Pal Singh. After the introduction a memento was given to the judges by the president and vice-president of IISU theatrical society. After a heartwarming welcome, the competition started. Each participant had to choose one prop and had to act accordingly on stage. After all the performances were done, it was requested to the judges to share their words of wisdom with the audience and to the participants. With that came the end of the mesmerizing competition.

The event was not only enchanting by its participants and performances but also with its costumes and props. The enthusiasm was not only seen in the participants but within the audience also as they all were encouraging the participants by their unstoppable clapping and cheering's.

Last but not the least as memories have to be kept forever, came the photography time. Group photographs were taken. All smiley faces full of passion and energy. The event would not have been possible without the efforts and encouragement of the teachers and volunteers. Special thanks to all the teachers, volunteers and the theatrical society for coming up with such unforgettable event.

Guest lecture on the topic 'Theatre to TV'

16th January, 2020

On the 16th of January, 2020, actor Saurabh Sharma visited the IIS University, Jaipur for a session for the Theatrical Society. 180 students attended the session.

TV and Bollywood actor, Saurabh Sharma, started his career from Jaipur itself. He was a theatre actor and then moved to Mumbai to pursue his career further on.

In his session, the students learned about his struggle after coming to Mumbai around 8 years ago. The students were allowed to ask him questions and the Patiala Babes actor, very patiently answered them too! With this session, the students learned that one should always keep an open mind. Shifting from theatre to the film industry is a whole process that requires acceptance and will power. He also taught the students that they should definitely follow their dreams if they're very confident in themselves. Questions like how to deal with rejection, how hard TV actors have to work, the difference between theatre and films, etc. were asked.

All in all, the entirety of the session was eye opening and knowledgeable for the students. They received answers that were not only long pending, but also realistic.

Sir ended the session by telling the kids that once you reach your dreams, everyone who has ever picked on you will look up on you. He also told them to be aware of their surroundings and where passion is a great thing, practicality shouldn't be left out when pursuing your dreams.

Mask Making Workshop at Hajiawala Government School

18 - 19th February, 2020

On the 18th of February, 25 students of IISU Theatrical Society, visited the Hajiawala School for a mask making and theatrics excursion.

The 1st day of the excursion was solely about teaching the children how to make masks. Mr. Lohit Pareek headed the activity. The children learnt how to create, shape and add elements to POP masks.

The children were full of zeal and determination to create unique masks. They brought out their own ideas to the table and no one wanted to be left behind!

From pointy noses and horns to devilish eyes and unicorns, they wanted it all!

The students, on the other hand, interacted with the children. They talked to them about their daily routines and what they aspire to be in life.

Overall, the day one on excursion was successful and left the students wanting more!

The second day of the Mask making excursion for the IISU Theatrical Society included theatrics and craft techniques.

The students helped the children decorate, paint and give a theme to their masks. All of them were assigned characters and the students helped them prepare small 1 minute performances.

The performances showcased the creativity of the young minds. The performances ranged from cartoons, witches, jokers and unicorns to environment conservation.

After that, the children showed the students of the Theatrical Society a small play they had prepared. It was a great performance that acknowledged our presence at the school. It left most of the students emotional and feeling enriched by the end.

The students learned more than they taught from the children. They learnt how to be as enthusiastic about the small things in life like the children. They all sure left wanting more of this bittersweet experience.

Interaction with Ms. Malini Kapoor on topic “Acting on TV” 20th of January, 2020

On the 20th of January, 2020, actress Malini Kapoor had a session in the IIS (deemed to be) University. She had a Q&A and informative session with 180 students of the Theatrical Society.

Malini Kapoor, famous for her role in Balika Vadhu, Saathiya, Y.A.R.O ka tashan, hails from Jaipur itself. She started her work in the film industry back in 2001 and now has established a good standing in the television industry.

In her seminar, Mrs Kapoor talked about how there are struggles in the film industry. She talked about how there has been a development in selection and audition processes. As far as looks are concerned, they might have been a criteria in the early 2000s, but now talent, body language and confidence are things that matter the most.

The students asked a variety of questions ranging from struggles to what significance hierarchy holds in the industry. She heard these with a patient ear and answered them all too!

It was a fruitful event and the students gained a lot of knowledge from it.

Participation in Inter-collegiate Street Play Competition at St. Xavier's College

19th January 2020

Street plays are a medium through which we can express the reality of society & individuals. It is a direct way to communicate with people in order to seek change. For the same universities organise street play competitions. ZEST an intercollegiate competition was organized by Xavier's college Jaipur on 19th January 2020. The event started at around 10:30, it was held at a quadrangle ground.

Team of 20 students went for the same. There were a lot of teams which performed including ours, The IIS University. The event started with motivating words of the anchor. The rules and regulations were spoken out for all the teams.

Annual Play Marathon

20th- 23rd January 2020

On the 20th of January, the IISU Theatrical Society conducted a 4-day Annual Play Marathon for its members and 120 students became a part of it. The marathon showcased all the annual plays held from the year 2012 in the IIS University. The plays included, 'Little Angels', 'Thankyou Baba Lochan Das', 'Paan Khayenge', 'Saleeb', 'Rustom-O-Sohrab', 'Sakinah', 'Phool and Fools' and the latest addition, 'Ek Bhoot Ki Atmakatha'. The 4-day marathon was a walk down the memory lane for the students of the Theatrical Society.

A play takes a lot of time and effort in its making. To see all these efforts, emotions, bonds and the process of its production replay in front of them was a sentimental ride. Each play came with its message and specificity. The Annual play Marathon left the students wanting more. They shall revisit these memories in the 9th Annual Play and eagerly so!

The event ended with inspiring words of the judges, who explained the importance and necessity of street plays. Not to forget, our team stood 1st in the competition which could be evident through the applause we had received during the performance. Constant photographs were being taken while we were performing.

Participation in Inter-collegiate Street Play Competition at Maharaja College

21st January 2020

In order to be able to speak directly and truly to the outsiders, nothing can be a better medium than a street play. It is a direct way to communicate with people in order to seek change.

This could be done in an inter college cultural fest "AQUAREGIA" where street play competition was organized by Maharaja College Jaipur on 21th January 2020. The event started at around 1 pm, it was held on a stage with open audience in front.

Team of 20 students went for the same. There were many teams who performed including ours, The IIS University. The event started with motivating words of the anchor. The rules and regulations were spoken out for all the teams.

Topics such as female inequality were shown by other team and many more. Our tag no was 2nd, the street play named "Kasturi Hiran" was performed. It was about how easily we blame others and forget to acknowledge things around us. The name explains the ironic story of the infamous Kasturi Hiran, who roams around to find the attractive smell which actually came from him. Same way, we humans roam around to seek pleasure and success whereas it remains within us. The performance started with an entry that takes places from every direction, even the audience. This made everyone curious and put everyone in complete awe.

All the performances touched the hearts of the audience which was evident from the kind of applaud and cheers they gave. The audience definitely motivated the performance with their utmost support.

Performance of skit 'Blush & Brush'

25th January, 2020

5 students of COSD Theatrical Society presented their production "Brush and Blush" on 25th of January 2020. The play depicted the theme "Beauty is in the eyes of the beholder"

What if your eyes have become conditioned to see beauty as we see on -screen.

This play is about the ideas of beauty evolving through time. Our culture and traditions have such a great impact on the ideas and perspectives of how we see a woman, and this thought is so rigid and comes so naturally that we fail, even to register it.

The play was directed by Ms. Mumal tanwar. It was a mixture of devising and documentary theatre. It was the first moving theatre of university. Play was ended with personal stories of actors, which left a great impact on audience. All the faculty members and the students enjoyed the performance and cheered up the participants with heavy applause.

Interactive session with world renowned Stand-up Comedian and author PAPA CJ

25th January 2020

A day filled with amusing jokes and comical timing. On 25th of January Papa CJ, a stand-up comedian visited the IISU theatrical society. Papa CJ is a stand-up comedian from India. In November 2014 he won the 'Asia's Best Stand-up Comedian' award by Top 10 Magazine in Kuala Lumpur. He has toured sell-out shows across five continents and in October 2011 he taped a Showtime USA Stand-up Comedy Special with Russell Peters in Amsterdam.

He visited the university to promote his new book "Naked". 200 students participated in his session. The book with its fascinating chapters appears like a film script. It includes his roller-coaster career and love life, and his MBA from the University of Oxford. His life moving from a regular guy to a motivational speak is worth applauding. Not only he talked about his book but he also talked about his some motivating life experiences and measures. The interaction was not only limited between students and him but it included faculties also. A lot of enthusiasm was seen in the audience which includes a lot of clapping and cheering.

Performance of "Qurbat" in Inter collegiate competition at LNMIT, Jaipur 1st February 2020

Twenty two students of the IISU Theatrical Society performed their stage play, Qurbat, in LNM Institute of Information and Technology on the 1st of February 2020.

The students had an enriching experience in the fest, Vivacity. The competition, aura, and energy were very engaging on this day.

Only the second place where this new play was showcased, the participants of Qurbat strived hard to convey the message they had formulated in their play.

The audience in the fest was involved and it felt refreshing to have listeners.

The play was ranked 3rd and it only encouraged the students to refine their methods and go for upcoming challenges!

Day 1, 4th July

Activity: Door-to-door visit, school-level promotion of the 3Rs (Reduce, Reuse, Recycle)

The first day of internship aimed to build a rapport with villagers and spread awareness among villagers regarding the personal hygiene and cleanliness, disposable plastic and garbage collection. The students were divided into groups and sent to different 'dhanis' for door-to-door survey. Students of the IIS (deemed to be UNIVERSITY) interacted with villagers and talked about segregation of biodegradable and non-biodegradable waste, reducing the use of plastics and reusing materials. They were also informed about what the students are going to do in the coming days in village and asked for their cooperation too. It was observed during the survey that most of the villagers are indulged in agriculture and farming occupation. Most of the houses had toilet and bathroom but there was no proper drainage system in the village. It was very surprised for the students that in the absence of any garbage dumping area villagers were use to dump their garbage in nearby dried well. Those who do not have any well or digs throw their garbage in open area. When the students asked them not to dump their garbage in open area they came with the complain that municipality van for garbage collection do not come to their village and they do not have any alternate for it. Throughout the survey we discovered that the major problem was the lack of a waste collection mechanism, which if present would improve the condition greatly. Almost 50 houses were found to have compost pit in their houses and they were using it properly.

One group of 9 students visited the primary school of the village-Hasampura. They interacted with students and talked about personal hygiene, keeping the school premises clean and reuse, reduce and recycle the waste.

Interns making school students aware about cleanliness and Hygiene

Day 2, 5th July

Activity: Cleaning of streets and collection of plastics

On the second day the volunteers were divided into groups and allocated different areas of the Hasampura village to undertake the task of cleanliness. Cleanliness drive was carried out in which streets were cleaned plastics waste was collected in bags which were then taken by the van of the IIS (deemed to be University).

Students picked up pieces of non biodegradable material like plastic, glass and thermocol in large bags. During the waste collection drive, the volunteers visited the houses and asked them to not to throw the waste outside nor to burn the waste and asked them to segregate the dry and wet waste. Further volunteers explained the disadvantages of throwing garbage or waste such as plastic outside their homes.

Students swept the streets pushing away the biodegradable materials to the side of the roads. Many women participated in cleaning littered areas around their houses. Each group of students collected approximately around 8-10 kgs plastic waste. All the volunteers participated in the activity with enthusiasm and showcased great team spirit and cooperation.

Day 6, 10th July

Activity: Wall Painting, best out of waste

The message of cleanliness is of great importance and needs to be conveyed to everyone. In order to have a wide impact and spread of the message of Swachh Bharat, it was decided to make wall paintings throughout the village with different messages regarding cleanliness. After taking the consent of the concerned person, students drew pictures and messages for cleaning the surroundings and proper disposal of garbage.

A staff from the visual arts department of IIS (deemed to be University) assisted students in wall painting. Approximately 10-12 paintings were made on walls of school, houses, milk booth and other public places. The painting conveyed a clear and great message. By the end of the day the village was full of colorful paintings with the Swachh Bharat message. Students of government school were involved in making best out of waste activity. They were asked one day before the activity to be conducted to bring waste materials from their home.

Activity: Making Paper and cloth bags to make plastic - free village

On the second last day of the internship the activity undertaken was aimed towards making plastic - free village. In school children were made aware about 'Recycling and Reusing' part of the three Rs.

Students went to its respective place, house to house teaching the men and women there how to make bags out of paper and clothe. For the paper bagsold newspapers was used. However as a paper bag can't be used for a lot of purposes, they also taught them how to make cloth bags from old pieces of sarees, shirts, etc. Some of the villagers really liked the cloth bags made out of saree as they also looked prettier than the ones they use regularly. Along with this villagers were motivated to reduce their use of plastic bags and reuse the ones they already have.

IDENTIFICATION OF THE VILLAGE PROBLEM:

The biggest village problem is that it lacks almost all governmental infrastructure and basic amenities. Apart from a primary government school, the village lacks every other important and amenities like bank, ATM, SHGs, Electricity office, Post Office, Gas Agencies, Petrol Pumps, Krishi Mandi, Kisan Sewa Kendra, Railway Station, Bus Stop, Sports facility, Veterinary care hospitals, etc.

Also, there is a shortage of water and the lost of households have shifted their main occupation to other jobs like wage labourers, private tent houses, grocery shops, etc due to lack of water for irrigation.

Their ground water level is also depleting, and if such a trend continues, it will not be long that those remaining agricultural families will have to make the transition.

STRATEGIES:

Rainwater Harvesting is recommended in this area which can be done by 'Nadi' construction, which is a prevalent practice in Rajasthan. It will help in providing surface water and also can regenerate groundwater eventually.

All government facilities are available nearby, but, not in the Surveyed area. Hence, the residents must request their representatives for the same.

Jalshakti Team Constitution, Water Conservation Awareness Campaign, at village HasamPura

11 - 14th September, 2019

Analysis of household survey in Hasampura revealed severe problem of groundwater depletion in the village. Under this several activities were undertaken to identify the water related problems and create awareness among the adults as well as children of the village for conservation of water. A Jal Shakti Team was constituted involving the faculties and students from IIS (deemed to be University), Jaipur. Members of Jal Shakti team of the University visited and conducted activities in the village. Details of the activities are:

Date	Activity
11 th September, 2019	Constitution of "Gram Jal Shakti Team" in villages Problem Identification and strategies planning to deal with those problems
11 th September, 2019	Water conservation Awareness campaign (guest Lecture by expert)
14 th September, 2019	Poster making on Efficiency in utilization of water

Problem Identification

Members of Jal Shakti team of IIS (deemed to be University), Jaipur visited the Hasampura village to have an idea about the existing water conservation activities undertaken by the villagers, water related problems, which they are facing and to formulate strategies to deal with those problems. One day before the visit Sarpanch was informed and he was requested to inform the villagers about the Jal Shakti team visit. Villagers were asked to gather at a common place and the activity started with a discussion on present status of water in the village. During the discussion the problems identified related to water are: There is an acute problem of water in the village and there is no alternate resource except Nevta bandh. The villagers did not just face problems with respect to irrigation for agriculture but also experienced difficulties in arranging water for day to day activities. The ground water level in the village had depleted alarmingly over the years.

Villagers were found aware about the water scarcity in their village and they are facing it too but surprisingly not doing anything for water conservation. Male complained that women at home wastes water a lot but women did not agreed to their statement. Although they are informed about water scarcity in Rajasthan through different media sources but not taking any step to resolve this problem due to lack of self-realization. Only two-three households were found to have installed the system of water harvesting. No further step was taken to renovate the traditional water bodies like wells, ponds etc.

Expert Talk on Water Conservation

An expert talk was organized in Hasampura village on 11 September, 2019. The expert was Dr. AlkaKataria, Assistant professor, Department of Environment Science, IIS (deemed to be university, Jaipur). She began her talk with importance of water and scarcity of it especially in Rajasthan. She said that water conservation should begin from home itself and teaching the future generation about the value of every drop of water should be practiced in each household. She suggested few measures for saving water and appealed especially to women present there to practice those strategies at their home. She talked about the depletion of groundwater level in the village and suggested the villagers to save rain water through the technique of rainwater harvesting. She also suggested few techniques to farmers for using and storing rainwater efficiently for irrigation in their farms. Tree plantation on a huge scale was also suggested by the expert.

The programme aimed at creating awareness among women and children of urban slum about gender discrimination at home, school and public places.

The target group for this activity was women and primary school children of Haziawala community. The reason behind selecting this particular section was that when the NSS team of IISU was conducting their activity, it was observed by the coordinator that many students especially females are irregular. The principal of the school informed that she talked to their mother and got to know that since in most of the family both the parents are working and they leave their daughter at home to take care of the home and siblings. So a urgent need was felt to conduct an extension activity in this area.

The activity was organized in the premises of Haziawala Government Primay school after taking the prior permission from the principal of the school. A total of 106 women and children of the community attended the activity.

The whole activity was planned in three steps namely, Presentation, Role Play, games and Interaction with women and children. Materials were prepared accordingly like pictorial self- explanatory PPT, costumes, stickpuppets for games etc.

First a game was played by all the participants in which questions were asked by the students regarding expected gender role. All the participants were given sticks puppet having pictures of girl and boy. They were asked to show the appropriate puppet according to them suited for that particular role. This game was conducted to have an idea about the prevailing gender streotypes and perception of gender role in the community. It was surprising to know that most of the household chores were expected to be done by the girl child whereas male child were given much freedom.

This was followed by a role play performed by all students depicting different ways in which gender discrimination is done by parents, family members and teachers. All the students participated in this role play as per the role assigned to them.

Lastly an interactive and counseling session was held with the help of pictorial PPT. Women were counseled to give equal opportunity to their girl child in every field. They were told about the changing gender roles in today's society with the help of PPT.

It was observed that the interactive session was very effective. Women and children interacted with students about their prejudices and stereotypical thought. Many of them said that they also faced gender discrimination in their own family in their childhood. So they have those prejudices that girls are supposed to perform household chores and boys are better at outside work. One old lady was very sad as she was having two three granddaughters and no grandson. Many females were having two-three daughter but they are hoping to have a boy baby in the next delivery. Many females were workers and they shared their feelings that how they are being discriminated by their employer for their wages and leaves. Towards the end some of them realized that they need to change their stereotypical thought regarding gender roles. The activity was ended with a hope that one day they will raise their voice against this shameful act. In the end small refreshments were given to all the participants. i.e. Poha and tea.

Social Equality: A Challenge for Women in Society

12 March, 2020

On the occasion of International Women's day 2020, Department of Journalism and Mass Communication in collaboration with NSS organized an interactive session on Social Equality: A Challenge for Women in Society. The speaker of the day was Dr. Priyamvada Singh, Social Activist, Policy Advisor, IPE Global and Founder, BalSansar. Dr. Singh spoke on 'Equality for Women' as she has started a campaign called 'Each for Equality' which tries to cover the issues of women across generations. Dr. Priyamvada commenced the session by talking about her journey in the field of social service and what factors motivated her to work for people. She spoke about various challenges faced by women in the society irrespective of their backgrounds and how they put other before themselves.

She discussed importance of education for women and the need for the women to improve upon their levels of nutrition. The problems should be addressed from the very beginning as individuals are taught to discriminate themselves and others specially on the basis of gender and this results in a society that starts taking women for second class citizens. As not just in rural areas but even in urban and semi urban areas women suffer from anemia and other diseases because of lack of proper health and nutrition which led to increase in infant mortality rate and birth of weak infants. She said that if the society wants to ensure safety for women; instead of restricting girls, boys should be taught how to behave.

She also said if we want to invest in a woman, we should, do it since her childhood. A woman should have access to all life chances, social prestige and security to become a productive individual in the society. The session was followed by discussion and students asked their queries. In the end vote of thanks was given by Professor Sharad Rathore, Programme officer NSS. 60 students of the department attended the programme.

Guest Lecture on 'Breast cancer Awareness'

22nd October 2019

Where in every four minutes one woman is diagnosed with breast cancer and in every thirteen minutes one woman dies of it. Therefore, it makes it essential to have cancer literacy in women and for this, an initiative was taken by Women Cell of Department of Sociology by organizing a guest lecture on 22nd October 2019 to raise awareness for breast cancer among Indian women and health professionals.

Ms. Archita and Ms. Angana stated that because of low cancer literacy the risk factors are more among Indian women, irrespective of their socio-economic and educational background. Considering this fact, there is an urgent need for nation- and state-wide awareness programmes, engaging multiple stakeholders of society and the health system, to help improve cancer literacy in India. They also shared the information and tips on how a woman could take care of herself and can examine herself initially for breast cancer at home. As they were the face of Sanjeevani NGO, they told us about how their NGO functions in terms of helping people who suffer from cancer.

The overall session was informative and concluded with a question-answer round. The session helped the students to gain knowledge regarding breast cancer which will not only be helpful for them but also making more people aware of this. 80 students attended the lecture.

Session on Gender Sensitization and Movie screening

3rd August, 2019

In the Declaration of Independence Thomas Jefferson had acknowledged the fact that all human beings are endowed with unalienable rights and so we can all strive to be happy. The society has differences based on which there are some necessary categorizations and these are meant to make society functional without compromising on the basic rights but there are also certain differences that amount to inequality and exclusion; gender is one of the identities that often lead to cornering of humanity because of the complex inequality it involves. Gender is a social construct which demands people to act in certain ways depending on their biological make up curbing individual freedom. We have seen both men and women suffer due to societal pressure. Women have been at greater disadvantage in this regard and hence a lot of established norms need to be questioned, the society needs to be sensitized towards gender to create equal opportunities for both men and women.

In this direction Ms. Chanda Asani, Lecturer, Women Studies organized a session on 3rd August, 2019 in A.V. hall under to address students on the topic "Gender Sensitization. 100 students were present for the session. The session began with discussion on minor observations in regard to treatment of gender especially women in various spaces like homes, workplaces, media etc. The objective was look into the reasons for specified discriminatory practices against women and the reasons for it. After this interactive session, the students were shown a movie titled 'Ek naya Mayna' that was based upon myths associated with menstrual cycle and how with a little effort we can normalize a natural biological phenomenon. The movie merely with two characters; mother and daughter sent a strong effective message as to why periods have certain taboos and what used to be the logic behind it. A woman is not polluted during menstrual cycle, this is only a societal narrow-mindedness that has been fuelled by rigid structures of the society. Girls must have the entire information about this bodily phenomenon and must respect themselves. This movie was directed by Radhika Sharma, student of MJMC with UGC assistance. The participatory group included students from Journalism, Home Science and Financial Studies. The screening of movie was followed by a lot of experience sharing on the part of the students. It was an eye opener for the students. The movie covered biological, psychological, and sociological dimensions associated with menstrual cycle. There was a special emphasis on menstrual health too. Overall, the session could address a lot of less-talked issues surrounding menstruation in the society.
